Benefit	Description
Total Disability Monthly Benefit	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Pays a monthly benefit if the insured person is totally disabled. • Totally disabled (in broad terms) is defined as the insured person being, due to sickness or injury, unable to perform one or more of the important income-producing duties of their usual occupation. The insured person must either be not working or not working for more than 10 hours per week in their usual occupation and under the regular care of a doctor.
Partial Disability Monthly Benefit	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Pays a monthly benefit if the insured person is partially disabled. • Partially disabled means (in broad terms) the insured person is, due to sickness or injury, unable to perform some or all of their important income-producing duties of their usual occupation, or is able to perform all of the important income-producing duties of their usual occupation but in a reduced capacity, and their monthly earnings are less than their pre-disability earnings and they are under the regular care of a doctor.

Exclusions

Exclusions apply if the sickness or injury giving rise to the claim is caused by an act of war (except for the Death Benefit where the insured person dies on war service); by intentional self-inflicted injury; by attempted suicide; or by normal and uncomplicated pregnancy and childbirth. Additional exclusions for Reserve Income Protection as Superannuation are: alcohol abuse; alcohol dependence; drug use; mental illness; and fatigue syndromes (These exclusions apply to the insured monthly benefit amounts exceeding $40,000 and only after the insured monthly benefit has been paid for 24 months).

Exclusions may also apply depending on individual circumstances, which will be notified in writing.

Only sicknesses or injuries that occur after policy commencement are covered by the policy.

Refer to the Protection Plans PDS for full terms and conditions, including exclusions and limitations.

Class of consumers

The product is designed for super fund members who need a monthly benefit between $1,000 and $60,000 if the insured person is totally or partially disabled.

Needs, objectives and financial situation

This product provides insurance cover for the following costs and expenses as a result of the total or partial disability of the insured person:

- personal financial costs (e.g., regular household expenses, including mortgage repayments and rental payments, utilities and other regular bills, costs to cover out-of-pocket medical expenses not covered by Medicare or health insurance).

The super fund member has financial capacity to pay premiums from time to time in accordance with the chosen monthly benefit, chosen premium structure, policy fees and government charges; and to be able to continue to pay premiums for the chosen policy term if premiums increase over time.

This product is not designed for policy owners and insured persons:

- if, when first taking out cover:
 - the insured person is not working in an eligible occupation, or
 - the insured person is working less than 20 hours per week, or
 - the insured person is aged 70 or over, or
 - the insured person is an undischarged bankrupt, or
 - the insured person is not an Australian citizen, a permanent resident of Australia or the holder of an eligible spouse/partner or work visa.
- whose main reason for cover is for a pre-existing condition of the insured person, or
- who need cover for less than $1,000 per month, or
- who need cover for more than $60,000 per month, or
- who need cover for an insured person aged 16 or under, or
- who need term life, terminal illness cover, TPD cover, trauma insurance or business expenses insurance, or
- who need health insurance.

This product is not designed for consumers who do not want to hold insurance through a superannuation fund.
